

About

In 1995, James J. Yukevich founded the firm known today as Yukevich | Cavanaugh with clear goals—to deliver to each client a special level of service and outstanding results in civil litigation defense. Our firm has thrived for over a quarter of a century, developing a reputation as one of the firms most feared by plaintiff's attorneys, and most appreciated by clients.

Headline-grabbing, high-stakes product liability defense verdicts for the automotive industry put Yukevich | Cavanaugh on the map. In recent years our growing firm has expanded our client base to serve industries including trucking and railway transportation, sports and military equipment manufacturers, pharmaceutical and medical device companies, excess insurance carriers, governmental entities, entertainment firms, and technology. The firm represents corporations large and small, as well as individuals.

Yukevich | Cavanaugh has become one of the nation's top litigation firms by combining innovative and aggressive case management with battle-honed trial techniques at all stages of litigation.

We promote early evaluation and assessment of cases to achieve early resolution or disposition if possible. When trial is unavoidable, clients are represented by experienced litigators who have successfully delivered defense verdicts in the most challenging circumstances.

Yukevich | Cavanaugh is a litigation-focused boutique specializing in:

- Trials
- Advanced motions and appeals
- National/regional case management, discovery and settlement coordination
- Crisis management
- Witness preparation
